2006 INNOVATIONS — 2006 INNOVATIONS

Winner of the Best of Innovations Award at the 2006 Consumer Electronics Show.

Hear The Difference™

Introducing LINX AUDIO™, a patent pending technology clinically shown to enhance sound quality and increase speech intelligibility. This award winning technology is currently available in our Clear Harmony™ headphones, for use with or without hearing aids.

Enhanced sound quality and clarity is made possible by creating harmonics that are not masked by low frequency sounds, filtering undesirable frequencies or noise, and soft clipping distortion. Additionally, the enhanced audio signal increases the perception of loudness without increasing volume, enabling listeners to achieve full rich sound at lower volumes, which may lead you to "Turn it Down™" to preserve hearing.

"BOOKMARK" SWITCH FOR TALKING BOOK MACHINES

Our engineer became aware that users of Talking Book Machines often fell asleep (or had a phone call or other interruption) while listening to books and magazines. The tape continued playing, losing the listener's "place". He developed a switch and 6' long cord, which plugs into the existing remote control port on the tape player (marked REM) and interrupts the power unless our momentary "dead man" switch is held down. As users begin to doze off, they relax, release pressure on the switch and the recording pauses at that point - in effect, creating a bookmark. To resume listening, it is a simple matter to rewind a short distance and pick up the recording where it left off. Especially useful when following instructions or recipes, for students, or anyone who relaxes by listening to talking books.

MAGNIFICATION INFORMATION

Maxi-Aids strongly recommends that you contact your low vision eye care professional prior to ordering a magnifier for low vision or if you are experiencing difficulties with your vision. A vision professional will be able to provide to you a complete comprehensive examination and will prescribe or recommend the appropriate device to meet your individual needs.

MAGNIFIER AND MAGNIFICATION INFORMATION

Magnifier Power - Is shown by a number placed in front of the letter X. This refers to how much larger an object will appear when viewed through the magnifier lens.
Example a magnifier with a 2X power will make an object appear 2 times its actual size.

Diopter – also a measure of magnification referring to the curvature of the lens. As the curvature increases the object will appear larger. The Higher the Dioptric power the greater the magnification.

IMPORTANT FACTS:

A): As the power of the magnifier increases the smaller the magnifier lens will become. This will decrease the total viewing area under the Magnifier.

B). With Higher power lenses the focal distance, also referred to as the working distance decreases. What this means is that as you use a higher power lens both the object that you want to view and your eye must be closer to the magnifier for it to focus correctly.

C). Please remember that when it comes to a magnifier – Stronger is NOT always better! Use the Magnification chart to determine what strength magnifier you feel most comfortable using, but again the best advice we can give you is to consult with a Low Vision professional.

TYPES OF MAGNIFIERS:

Hand Held / Pocket magnifiers - are held in your hand when viewing an object and are available with or without illumination. These magnifiers are usually small, portable and easy to carry in your pocket or purse.

Stand Magnifier - Stand magnifiers are designed with a fixed distance calculated from the lens to the surface. Stand magnifiers must be placed directly on- top of the item surface to be magnified. As the power increases – the closer your eye must be to the lens in order to focus. Stand magnifiers are available with or without illumination, and also are available using battery, electric, or rechargeable power sources.

Illuminated Magnifiers - These magnifiers contain the added benefit of a Light source. This added feature is especially helpful to those with Low Vision.

Dome magnifiers - clear acrylic or glass dome shaped magnifiers that must be placed on top of the object to be magnified. Please note these magnifiers are not illuminated but they do gather light from the surrounding light in a room causing the object to be brighter.

TYPES OF ILLUMINATION (LIGHTING) AVAILABLE FOR MAGNIFIERS:

Incandescent - soft lighting found in standard lamps (lighting may appear to have a yellow tint)
LED (Light-Emitting- Diodes) - Provides an even soft-bright light. As a general rule - LED bulbs generally last for several years, and they are generally not replaceable. LED's also use less power, so battery's last significantly longer.
Xenon - Illumination which provides whiter and brighter lighting then Incandescent.
*Many users of magnifiers have more than one – They usually purchase a stand or dome magnifier for their home or office, and a hand held magnifier to carry with them in their pocket or purse.

WITH HARD PROTECTIVE COATING

These magnifiers are graded according to their dioptic power and display the largest possible diameter for their respective power. Their aspheric optical design is matched to the conditions in which they are used. Image quality and distortion - with utilization of the highest possible magnification - have been optimized so that no aberrations of any consequence occur. The hand magnifiers are labeled with their refracting power, which can be used to calculate the magnification on the basis of the conditions of use.

(HARDWARE MOUSE ALTERNATIVE)

Tracker 2000 allows you to smoothly move the cursor on the computer simply by moving your head, regardless of your disability. It sits on top of the computer and tracks a tiny reflective 'dot' worn on your forehead or glasses. When you move your head, it elegantly converts that into computer mouse movement. This hardware alternative is ideally suited to AAC devices or other computer systems, both Macintosh and PC based, that have no USB port. The Tracker 2000 was developed to give mouse control to people with Quadriplegia, Cerebral Palsy, Multiple Sclerosis, Muscular Dystrophy, ALS, Carpal Tunnel Syndrome and any other disability where the user has little or no control of their hands to use a standard mouse. Requires dwell technology software.
